

$60,000 Worth of Stolen ORE IN CACHE

Vast Fortune in Mohawk Ore In Rotting Sacks Is Brought to Light of Day—Precious Stuff Is Found in Cellar of Shack at Coaldale—Brought to Millers Under Heavily Armed Guard—Officers are Hot on Trail of Suspects and Arrests May Be Made at Any Moment.

A fortune in high grade was unearthed yesterday morning in a cellar at Coaldale. The ore was stolen from the Mohawk mine, and is estimated to be worth between fifty and sixty thousand dollars.

There appears to be some little mystery about the case. The stealing was not of recent occurrence, but on the contrary the ore, or at least some of it, must have been cached for a year or more. The sacks which originally held it were so old that they were rotten, and new sacks had to be secured to remove the stuff.

There were in all 187 sacks found in the cellar, the majority of the ore in these being worth from $1 to $2 and $3 a pound. The sacks weighed from 125 to 150 pounds each, so that it is easy to figure what the entire haul was worth.

The find was made by a detective named Slyde, in the employ of the Goldfield Consolidated, and he got wind of the cache through information which came from a private source. He heard that the stuff was cached in some little town on the railway, and not very far from Tonopah. He was at Millers the day before and evidently got the clew there which put him on the right track, for he appeared at Coaldale early yesterday, and did not have to look far for his quarry.

Coaldale is a little place about thirty-five miles west of here, on the line of the Tonopah and Goldfield railroad, and does not boast of more than one or two houses, and tracking the ore was not difficult. The ore had been carried there from time to time by two or more Italians, and the high graders kept piling up the precious stuff until they had laid away in the cellar a handsome fortune. Evidently they were afraid to attempt to ship it, for fear of detection.

It is more than probable that someone who discovered their secret, told the Goldfield Consolidated people, and they immediately put their Hawkshaws at work, with the result that the cellar was discovered and the ore within it. Two men were sent down to Coaldale yesterday afternoon and the ore was put into a car and removed to Millers, where it is now, heavily guarded. Up to the hour of going to press, no arrests had been made. It is more than probable that the Italians will be bagged if they return to the house, and it is quite possible that the officers are looking for bigger game in connection with the high graders. New and interesting developments are expected today. Several men are now under suspicion and officers are keeping close tab on the movements of the suspects, and arrests may follow at any moment.

GAME TOM LIPTON IS DISAPPOINTED

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Sir Thomas Lipton is bitterly disappointed at the refusal of the New York Yacht Club to accept his challenge for another series of races for the America's cup, but has not given up hope, as he telegraphed to William Fife, his designer, to come to London. He was emphatic that he would not challenge under the old rule, but authorized the Associated Press to say he was prepared to challenge with a ninety-foot boat under the New York Yacht Club rules.

PROGRESS MADE IN BORAH TRAIL

BOISE, Sept. 26.—At today's proceedings in the trial of United States Senator William E. Borah, the government disposed of thirteen witnesses, all of whom swore that John Wells, one of the men indicted with Senator Borah, gave them money with which they took out timber land claims. When they received their patents to the land, they all declared that Wells sent them to a man named Pritchard, who took their deeds and gave them $250 each. One of the witnesses, Wean West, said that in addition to taking out a claim for himself, he induced several others to do so.

CONSPIRATORS ARE THROWN IN JAIL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Official word of the arrest of the conspirators in Havana reached the War Department today in the following cablegram addressed by Governor Magoun to Acting Secretary Oliver: "Information, more specific than heretofore, received late tonight is to the effect that Mateo Parra, angered by failure to bring about an uprising, threatened to dynamite some buildings in Havana and then escaped. Local police arrested him and two of his gang, named Lara Miret and Dacase, and they are now in jail."

Russia Predicts War For United States

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 26.—Secretary Taft's tour of the world is being followed with unusual interest here. The government is taking measures to surround his journey through the Siberian European Russia with attentions usually observed for rulers of states. The press is busily speculating on the probable advantage of the Russian-American convention.

Conviction prevails here that war between Japan and the United States is inevitable in the distant future. Today a published article, entitled the "World Power," says that when the United States fleet passes out of the Straits of Magellan and sweeps proudly into the waters of the Pacific, there will open a new era for the Eastern world. Official courtesies and temporary lull in war talk do not conceal the fact that America is reaching out for the mastery of the Pacific. She is already strong enough to attain it.

GREEKS RUN TRAINMEN INTO HILLS

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 26.—Eight dead Greek section laborers and fourteen injured is the result of a collision between a Southern Pacific work train and a freight on the Tehachapi mountain, near the entrance of tunnel No. 17, two miles west of Tehachapi, this evening at 7 o'clock. The enraged and injured comrades of the Greeks, who escaped from the smashup, gave chase to the engineer and train crew, whom they held at fault, and with rocks and other missiles drove the train men to the surrounding hills and threatened destruction of much railroad property. On the relief train that left here at 8 o'clock tonight were twenty armed men intended to pacify the enraged foreigners and rescue the refugee trainmen from their perilous position and protect the company's property.

Wilson's Acts Due to Loyalty to Ruel

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—As a part of the case of the prosecution in the trial of Tiley L. Ford, chief counsel for the United Railroads, charged with bribery, there was today a long procession of former supervisors, each of whom ascended the stand and recited the circumstances under which he accepted the money which Chairman James L. Gallagher admitted having paid to them for their votes and then gave way to one of their associates. It was not until late this afternoon that there developed any testimony that was not practically a repetition of what had been given before. This was when Andrew N. Wilson, at present a member of the State Railway Commission, who confessed to having received $10,000 for his vote on the overhead trolley franchise bill while serving as supervisor, undertook to explain, at his own request, the part he had taken in preparing the way for the passage of the ordinance. Wilson declared that he had been misrepresented in the papers and that his actions were due to his loyalty to Abraham Ruel, who, he said, had procured his election as supervisor and later as railroad commissioner. Wilson added that he himself made no arrangements for the payment of the money to other members of the board, but that he had confirmed, as a representative of Ruel, at least some of the statements made by Gallagher, as well as some announcements made and orders conveyed through the same source.

DEPUTY EMERSON RELEASED

OFFICER WHO SHOT LAFLEUR GIVEN LIBERTY BY THE GRAND JURY.

Charles F. Emerson, the deputy sheriff, who shot and killed Joe Lafleur in Atwood several weeks ago, was yesterday set free by the action of the Grand Jury, who failed to indict him for the crime of murder. Emerson was acquitted by a coroner's jury immediately after the killing of Lafleur, but subsequently charges were preferred against him by a number of people in Goldyke, the adjoining town to Atwood, and he was held to appear before the Grand Jury without bonds.

Considerable bad feeling was stirred up in the two towns over the matter. When the case came up before the Grand Jury.

WOULD RESTRICT JAPANESE FLOOD

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 26.—W. D. Scott, or some other official of the Canadian government familiar with government affairs, will probably be sent to Japan immediately to attempt to arrange restriction of the immigration of Japanese. This proposition has not been finally decided upon by the federal government, but it was given out at Ottawa today that the question was being fully considered, and a detailed announcement would be made in a day or two.

The fact that the government is considering sending a special envoy to the mikado shows that the negotiations between Ishii and Premier Laurier last week at Ottawa were fruitless. Mr. Scott, head of the immigration department, is now in Vancouver, and could be on his way to Japan within five days.

He had $1000 cash and $6800 in letters of credit at that time.

McCarty Is Nominee Union Labor Party

[By Associated Press.] SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—The Union Labor party convention tonight nominated P. H. McCarthy for mayor of this city. The action was followed by a number of dissatisfied delegates leaving the hall without waiting for the remainder of the proceedings.

After the organization of the convention, Thomas Egan offered resolutions favoring a fusion with the other parties on candidates. These were voted down and Egan left the hall at once. McCarthy, who is president of the Building Trades Council, was then nominated for mayor. Several delegates arose to protest, but were not allowed an opportunity to speak and the nomination went through. One delegation of fourteen men was among those to leave the convention hall.
